

Genova 14/05/2025

To Whom It May Concern,

I am pleased to write this letter in support of Sina Hatami, the student at the University of Genoa, whom I have had the pleasure of working with since September 2024. From the beginning, Sina expressed a strong interest to participate voluntarily in the research project focused on activity detection (in the field of computer vision and applied deep learning). Specifically, the task involved the classification of nonverbal behaviors using LSTM in a pre-existing set of video recordings.

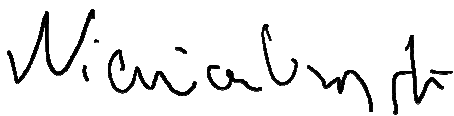

Throughout this time, Sina has regularly attended meetings and actively contributed to the project. He has demonstrated the ability to work autonomously, as well as great enthusiasm for learning and developing new skills in this research area.

His perseverance and commitment are impressive, especially given that his participation in the project has been entirely voluntary and unrelated to his thesis or internship obligations.

I confidently recommend Sina for a junior position in your company.

I am available for any further questions you may have.

Yours sincerely,
Radoslaw Niewiadomski

Tenure-Track Assistant Professor

University of Genoa

radoslaw.niewiadomski@unige.it

<https://radoslawniewiadomski.github.io/>